Jon Baptxte is a hip hop recording artist based in London. Born in Paris, this conscious lyricist rhymes with politics, social activism and authentic black culture to the delight of smart ears and eyes around the globe.

"My name is Jon. Jon Baptxte. I came to planet earth 3 decades ago. I am a Star. I mean literally. I am a Star which purpose is to shine on people's souls and enlighten them. We are all stars. I am an instrument. I knew this early. Life has been tough. I know you know. Circumstances and the purpose of my mission brought me to express myself and communicate through the strongest thing I experienced on earth. The Black experience. Music and Hip Hop.

Life has been tough. I've been out there, North, South, West, East looking for a better place. There is none. I knew many places. I knew many women. I am still restless. I have a mission. I have a dream.

I hope you enjoy it."
